

The logo for the International Conference on Intelligent Robots and Systems (IROS) is centered at the top. It consists of the letters 'I', 'R', 'O', and 'S' in a stylized, outlined font. The 'I' and 'S' are simple vertical bars. The 'R' and 'O' are more complex, with the 'R' having a curved top and the 'O' being a circle with a horizontal line through it. The logo is flanked by decorative elements: on the left and right, there are stylized robot heads or sensors with multiple horizontal lines and a central circular element.
